

Capstone Project: Fundamentals of Machine Learning for Business Analyst

- Showcase the current state of Sales
- Create future state of the Sales by working with your stakeholders (internal and external)

Using two different programs Excel and PowerBi to Check the state of current sales you can see PowerBi is able to give a clear representation of the current state of sales, whereas on excel due to amount of data excel was unable to give a representation. From the data for the future state of sales from both programs' similar values. However, PowerBi can handle larger set of data so the representation of the future state of sales would be more representative.
